70 Red Buckets of Surprises!

“ I would just like to send a thank you note to our Carboline Sales Representative, Jeff Schmucker along with Rick Brown. Both guys are always going above and beyond to make sure every need is met at our plant. They work very well together and keep our company informed on the market, the latest projects that are taking place and the new markets that may be coming in the future. Any technical questions that we have are answered within a simple phone call and Jeff and Rick are very fast to respond to any question or need we may have. Thanks guys for the good work and it is always a pleasure doing business with Carboline. Along with the outstanding customer and technical service we get the Carbotators are always a hit with the family as well! ”
